NICOLA TEWHARE

Music Made for Lesbians

A Softer Touch

You beat the love and faked the end
I walked on by and still depend
You made me feel like I was done
To move so slowly towards the sun

I want you back more than you know
But love demands you need to show
I can't believe I lost the way
So little time to feel betrayed

Tonight I need a softer touch
A sign that I had been too much
I want to stay wrapped in your arms
Cry all my tears before it calms

Which way do I begin to take
If such a love is no mistake
Why can't I feel what love I lost
When I realise what it cost

Tonight I need a softer touch
A sign that I had been too much
I want to stay wrapped in your arms
Cry all my tears before it calms
